

SATURDAY EVENING, OCT. 24, 1908.

A WEEK ago Mr. Nathan Straus, chairman of the Bryan and Kera Business Men's League of New York, charged Republican National Treasurer Sheldon with going into Wall street and levying $500 on each banker and broker. Mr. Sheldon's indignation was aroused and he vehemently denied the soft impeachment saying it was absurd to assert he had power to "levy" any sum, but he had sent out a request to one thousand and more persons to contribute $50 each. Mr. Sheldon's denial did not phase Mr. Straus, as he was familiar with the facts, and he replied with fervent language that Mr. Sheldon "lied and knew he lied when he asserted that these men had not been assessed $500 each." Four years ago when Judge Parker said Mr. Cortelyou had gone into Wall street and demanded a quarter of a million dollars; Mr. Roosevelt, the "Jim the penman of the White House," retorted in words to the effect that Judge Parker would not recognize the truth if he met it. Well, Judge Parker has been vindicated, although it was several years before the facts leaked out. Mr. Straus had only a few days to wait to have his statement verified. It is publicly stated at republican headquarters that money is coming in to give a whirlwind finish to Mr. Taft's campaign. In the great financial center the word has been passed from magnate to magnate that Treasurer Sheldon's coffers are now well filled, and that New York state is positively safe for Taft.

The following press dispatch from New York was published a few days ago:

Hitchcock's committee has the money and the republican party will win, all the financiers are now asserting. Implicit faith is felt here, as everybody knows, in the potency of money. Wall street responded to the call, somewhat reluctantly, it is true, and now all danger is past, it is claimed, in the empire state. The bounding west may cut the Roosevelt and McKinley majorities of four and eight years ago, but the empire state is safe, and you cannot convince one New Yorker in a thousand that Mr. Bryan can possibly reach the presidency without New York state. How much money has been raised, nobody knows, but the word is out that the sum is sufficient for all practical purposes.

A "sum sufficient for all practical purposes" which means "corruption of the electorate." There is little doubt that the moneyed men of this country, north, south and west, have pooled their interests and are doing all they can to elect the republican ticket. The wisdom of this may be questioned, for their poorer neighbors have good sense, and therefore know that the money with which the rich buy elections does not fall from the clouds, and this is enough to make them think. One would not be trifling with the truth in saying that in every national election from 1884 to the present day money has played a much greater part than has been good for the morals, as well as the future of the country. Well, these customs will continue until something serious happens. But the platitudes ridicule all such admonitions, claiming they consider Mr. Sheldon's "levy" not a demand but only "a gentleman's agreement" to pony up to the extent of $500 each in order to save the country, and "we are the country," they proclaim.

"MOLLYCODDLES," or candy suckers, a popular form of candy on a stick, are being investigated by the Lynn, Mass., Board of Health. Lynn had an epidemic of diphtheria and sore mouths, and physicians assert that "Mollycoddles" are largely responsible. The "Mollycoddle" is so named that it cannot be taken into the mouth and chewed, but must be held in the hand and sucked. While no fault is found with the candy itself, the juvenile practice of passing it around for promiscuous sucking is said to assist in the spread of contagious disease. Sucking "Mollycoddles" has become so popular that even grown ups have the habit and consume the new confection on the street. Many "Mollycoddles" are sold in Alexandria to the younger generation.

SECRETARY ROOT, after a second conference with the president yesterday, at which it was decided to send the cabinet out on an election tour for Mr. Taft, was asked if the decision to send him to Ohio in behalf of Taft did not indicate that the State was in danger. "It indicates that the situation is very mixed," Mr. Root replied. This is more than significant.

THE SAN FRANCISCO CALL states that a report affecting the transport service on that coast has been made to the War Department and that some startling disclosures may be expected when the report is made public. It seems almost impossible for the government to engage in any undertaking without a scandal ensuing.

IT APPEARS that at last the farmers of the country are becoming convinced that Providence has more to do

In sending them good crops than government tax rates. This change of mind is the cause of great anxiety in the republican camp.

THE entire cabinet, as stated yesterday, has been conscripted in the Taft cause, and during the next few days they will take the stump and work in season and out of season to place their favorite in the White House. Huge automobiles half-covered with white cotton on which appeared earnest appeals to officeholders to go home and vote were gliding between the departments in Washington yesterday. That the republicans are passing through a trying ordeal is evident, and their anxiety is increasing as election day draws near.

TRAINED MEN of both parties quietly admit that 25 per cent of the voters of the country are on the fence at this late day and they believe this enormous vote can be turned one way or the other within the last few days of the campaign. It is said that never has there been such a vacillation of mind among voters as at present. To buy this vote is the reason for the collection of the big republican campaign fund.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.

Washington, Oct. 24. Smilingly side stepping the query as to whether the speaker's bureau of the republican national committee had been temporarily transferred to the White House, Representative Wm. S. Bennett, of New York, who recently succeeded T. C. Dupont, of Delaware, as chief of that bureau, held a lengthy conference with the president today. He had hurried here in response to a telephonic request to take up with the president certain urgent matters in connection with the closing days of the campaign. Inquiries at the White House today, with reference to the report that the president would make a speech next Saturday night before the Marquette Club of Chicago, were met with evasive replies. It is believed that the president is holding himself in readiness to make several speeches before the close of the campaign, should he feel that conditions, as they develop, require it. Among the suggestions received by the president, is one pointing out the great advantages of a stump trip to Chicago. Such a trip would cover three doubtful states, reach great industrial, railroad and mining sections, and traverse in Pennsylvania several communities in which fights are being made against the republican congressional ticket. It was pointed out that this schedule would give the president rare and speeches at Baltimore and Harrisburg; at Altoona, at Wilkes-Barre, and at Pittsburg. In Ohio, the railroad center of Alliance and Mansfield, the industrial center of Canton; the Massillon coal region and the Lima oil fields would be traversed. It is understood that extra efforts are being made to secure the labor vote at Gary, Ind., the new steel town, where Judge Taft, Vice President Fairbanks and others are scheduled to speak tonight, and should he make the trip, the president would probably stop there for a few remarks. According to Bennett's statement, the oratorical protechnics to be let loose next week will set a flame the heavens of Ohio, Indiana and New York, with sidelights in West Virginia, Kentucky and Connecticut. All the orators that can be handled have been hurried to Ohio. Indiana will also be gridironed with speakers. From Monday morning until the day before election the thunder of oratory will continue in New York. Representative Bennett stated that he felt qualified to state that President Roosevelt would not take the stump in this campaign.

The State Department was advised by cable this afternoon of the suicide by shooting this morning of Silas C. McFarland, consul general at large and inspector of consulates for Europe, on a train between Hamburg and Berlin. Miss Katharine Harley, of Fall River, Mass., won the national golf championship for women, at the Chevy Chase links today, in the final round of the week's tournament, playing against Mrs. T. H. Polhemus, of Brooklyn, by a score of six up and five to play.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Capt. Bryan Conrad, U. S. A., son of Major Holmes Conrad, of Winchester, and Miss Kathryn Geddes, daughter of Mr. Leroy Geddes, of Salt Lake City, Utah. The wedding will take place in January.

Campbell, of Amherst Courthouse, has been cited to appear before Judge McDowell, of the Federal District Court in Lynchburg, next Monday, to show cause why he should not be fined for contempt. Charles Thomas, arrested two days ago while fishing on the South river, in Augusta county and accused of being one of the leaders of the outlaw gang which terrorized Arvonis, was identified yesterday by the sheriff of Buckingham county as one of the three men who recently broke jail at Arvonis. Thomas, after this identification, made a confession in which he admits his identity, but denies responsibility for the shooting of Gregory which precipitated the trouble that finally drove the outlaws to the woods.

News of the Day.

The Annapolis and West River Steamboat Company, for which receivers were appointed, ceased business after the trip of the steamer West River from points in lower Anne Arundel to Annapolis yesterday.

By the terms of the will of the late Bishop Potter, of New York, all his property is left, share and share alike, to his five children. The petition which accompanies the documents declares the estate to be worth more than $10,000 in real and the same amount in personal property.

Repatriation from Chicago state that there is a reduction in meat prices, that pork and other meats have dropped from 1 cent to 1 1/2 cents a pound wholesale. For the last two weeks there has been a concerted effort on the part of packers to boost meat prices. The sudden decline was brought about by the persistent refusal of consumers to pay advance prices. A remarkable combat between a large eagle and a shark was witnessed by Capt. Henderson and crew of the steamer Kangaroo on the Chesapeake bay Thursday afternoon. When coming out of Occoquan creek they saw the eagle dive and come to the surface with a shark. Then followed a fierce struggle. The shark pulled the eagle under the water until it was almost exhausted. The fish was killed and floated down on the water. Members of the steamer's crew put it in a small boat and secured the eagle, although it clawed them repeatedly, and its mate, hovering close by, tried to attack them.

REPUBLICANS WORRIED.

Democratic State Chairman Dimling is at state headquarters to remain all week and take up the work of the campaign which is progressing very favorably. State Secretary P. Gray Meek went to Harrisburg last evening and with his force was very busy today sending out documents and arranging for meetings and speakers. Asked what he thought of the sudden activity of the republican machine bosses in preparing for mass meetings and dragging their best speakers for the stump, Secretary Meek smiled and said: "I see they are getting active, which is a sure indication that they are scared. And they have every reason to be scared for that big majority given Roosevelt in this state will be very much rattled down to November. They talk of Taft having 200,000 majority in this state. If they get 50,000 majority for their national ticket they will be lucky. I am not talking as a boast. Our reports every day are better and better. The old conservatives who would have nothing to do with Bryan when he ran for president before are now under the banner and fighting for him. It is no wonder that the republican machine bosses are getting scared. They remember how easy it was for Berry to be elected state treasurer and they do not forget that they elected Governor Stuart by less than 75,000 and they are beginning to sit up and do some thinking, at the same time they are getting out to hustle. But it is too late for them to get busy now. Their big majority will not come to them again, and they are going to lose congressmen, state senators and members of assembly, and they know it. Of course they may have a big cash balance in their treasury that may help them." (Star Independent) Harrisburg, Pa.

This seems somewhat remarkable when the fact is considered that Roosevelt carried Pennsylvania in 1904 by at least 500,000 plurality.

After Night Riders.

Powell, who was captured by night riders and forced to accompany them to the hotel, is wanted on orders of Governor Patterson, but he has not been found.

Today's Telegraphic News

Anti-Merger Suit.

Boston, Oct. 24.—An apparently unimportant motion made by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad yesterday in the government anti-merger suit turns out to be one of extreme moment, since it questions the constitutionality of the Sherman anti-trust law. This is the first time the constitutionality of the law has been doubted in open court, and if the U. S. Circuit Court goes into this matter in passing on the motion its decision will be one of the most important in the annals of law. The railroad's motion merely objects to the request of Attorney General Bonaparte that the merger cases be argued before three circuit judges. The argument set up by the defense is that Congress without constitutional rights attempts to set up a special tribunal not properly established or ordained by the constitution as a court of the land to try a suit properly brought and pending within the jurisdiction of a United States court. The objectors are upon the ground that such three judges, established for a hearing of this case, will not be an inferior court ordained and established by Congress of the United States within the meaning of the constitution and especially within the meaning of section 1, article three.

Preparing to Sail for Amoy.

Yokohama, Oct. 24.—The officers and men of the American fleet busied themselves today with preparations for weighing anchor early tomorrow for the cruise to Amoy, China.

Though the fleet was scheduled to sail in a few hours, the enthusiastic Japanese would not permit the day to pass without bestowing further honors.

Thousands of "banzai" Japanese crowded around the officers whenever they appeared on the streets, and Japanese and United States sailors locked arms and fraternized as though long lost and reunited brothers.

Admiral Sperry gave a reception aboard his flagship, the Connecticut, as the closing function of one of the most notable weeks in the history of Japan. It was attended by dignitaries from all ranks of Japanese life and was marked by the same spirit of friendship that has been the key note of the Americans' stay in Japan. A water carnival was given in the harbor tonight. Japanese craft of all sorts, every vessel gaily decorated and brilliantly lighted, swarmed around the great, silent sea fighters. Bands of school children wearing the American colors and slogan "Columbia" and "The Star Spangled Banner" was a feature of the closing day.

The United States and Japan.

Tokio, Oct. 24.—The idea of a formal treaty between America and Japan is sweeping all before it in Japan today.

The support of Premier Katsura is evidenced by an expression in the Kokumin Shimbun, the official organ of the premier. It says that while an unwritten alliance already exists between the two countries and there is no probability of a break in the friendliness of relations, there is no objection to the understanding. The paper points out that the time for such an agreement is opportune, recalling that the Russian-French alliance came as the result of the visit of the Russian fleet to Toulon.

It could not be learned today whether any actual initiative has yet taken place, but it is conceded that the temper of the Japanese people will force the cabinet to "feel out" the American government with respect to such a proposal.

The Japanese press today prints messages from America showing how the proposal for a Japanese-American alliance is being received in that country. The messages are all favorable and their publication has awakened a tremendous enthusiasm for the idea. In anticipation of closer relations with the United States, the Tokio City Council tonight appropriated money for the establishment of night schools in which to teach the English language.

Robertson Victorious.

Motor Parkway, L. I., Oct. 24.—Robertson in a automobile won the Vanderbilt cup today in 4:00:48. Lytle in an Isotta was second in 4:02:36.

Three hundred thousand persons witnessed the contest from the mammoth grand stands at the finish and backed a score deep at every one of the difficult turns which put the skill of the driver to the greatest test.

David Schuch, of Brooklyn, was caught between two cars and suffered a broken leg. This was the only accident of the day.

Palmer Will Oppose Cannon.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 24.—Hon. Henry W. Palmer, twice elected republican congressman from this district and at present a candidate for re-election, has declared himself against the re-election of Speaker Cannon.

The Times-Leader (independent) called upon General Palmer to declare himself and he issued the following today: "I shall vote against Mr. Cannon for speaker or against any other man who obstructs the Roosevelt policies as enunciated by William Howard Taft."

Threatened Revolution.

City of Mexico, Oct. 24.—Honduras is threatened with another serious revolution, according to advices reaching this city. Gen. Bonilla is at the head of the new movement and is getting his forces in shape to strike a blow. Mexico is being appealed to by the friends of the government to prevent a revolution. The jails are full of political prisoners, but it is impossible to curb the agitation. Actual fighting is believed to be imminent.

Killed by Moros.

Manila, Oct. 24.—Nine Filipino laborers and their superintendent were killed in a fight with a band of Moros on the sugar plantation near Iligan, Island of Mindanao, news of which was received here today. The attack of the Moros was wholly unexpected, and the laborers lost heavily before they rallied and drove off the attacking party. The buildings of the plantation were fired by the Moros as they retreated slowly.

Morse Had Been Warned.

New York, Oct. 24.—That William B. Ridgeley, U. S. Comptroller of the Currency, had warned "Ice King" Charles W. Morse that his manipulation of the National Bank of North America would end in a crash was brought out today in the trial of Morse and Alfred W. Curtis in the U. S. Circuit Court here. Writing under date of January 24, 1907, Mr. Ridgeley called attention to the fact that the examination of the bank has shown that loans to the amount of $3,535,500 had been made to companies in which the directors were interested. The comptroller insisted that such liabilities must be reduced. In answer to this Curtis wrote saying such criticisms were hardly just, and John W. Gates, a director, also wrote saying that in his opinion the loans to Morse and his companies were entirely safe.

The Balkan Trouble.

Berlin, Oct. 24.—M. Iswolski, Russia's new foreign minister, began a conference today with Prince Von Buelow in what is believed to be a vain effort to bring Germany to the Russian-French-English viewpoint regarding the Balkan conference. It is probable that Emperor William will also join the conference. The meeting is fraught with great importance.

With respect to Turkey and Austria, Germany will support Austria in every contention, and should Iswolski urge their leaving their annexation feature to a conference the interview will end and Germany will announce her intention of not participating in the conference.

Bryan Answers Taft.

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 24.—"I see that Mr. Taft admits last fall's panic was caused by the republican party and that he declared it was caused by overprosperity," declared W. J. Bryan today. "All of you who feel that you deserved the panic and the suffering that ensued just because you were over prosperous will vote the republican ticket, but those of you who show that you have not had any over-supply either of prosperity or of material things, will support the democratic ticket and help me to place the country on a sound business basis."

Taft Denounces Gompers.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 24.—Wm. H. Taft is winding up his three days' campaign in Indiana today. The first stop was made at Greendale at 7:30 a. m. He contrasted the prosperity enjoyed by the farmers under the McKinley and Roosevelt administrations with the hardships suffered by the country under Cleveland. Taft said among other things: "I charge Mr. Gompers with misrepresenting my labor decisions in his speech and his writings. He is guilty of unflinching buncombe and demagoguery."

Suffragettes Sent to Jail.

London, Oct. 24.—In the Bow street police court today, Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst and Mrs. Emily Drummond were sentenced to jail for three months and Miss Christa Pankhurst for ten weeks. The women are leaders in the suffragette movement and were charged with inciting a riot of October 13, when an attempt was made to "rush" the House of Commons. The women were given the alternative of furnishing bonds for their good behavior or going to jail and chose the jail sentences.

Explosion in Palace.

Lisbon, Oct. 24.—An explosion occurred in the royal palace at Opera today, injuring Gen. Olbroa and three other persons. It was announced that the explosion was due to an accumulation of gas, but the rumor being current that it was the work of revolutionists and the city became greatly excited.

P., who was chief secretary for Ireland from 1900 to 1905. Lord Curzon of Kedleston was today elected to the Lord Rectorship of Glasgow University.
